

Ralph N. Adams Award in Bioanalytical Chemistry

The Ralph N. Adams Award was established in 2004 with funds raised from friends and former students of Ralph Adams. The award recognizes significant contributions to the field of bioanalytical chemistry, broadly defined. The recipient will have introduced a significant technique, theory, instrument or application important to the life sciences, and provided an exceptional environment to educate bioanalytical chemists. Ralph N. Adams (1924 - 2002) exemplified these characteristics as a distinguished professor of chemistry at the University of Kansas.

The award consists of a $2500 cash award and is celebrated with a half day symposia at Pittcon (travel costs paid by Pittcon). The recipient is selected by anonymous committee consisting of former award winners and former student of RNA. The recipients of the award are:

- 2005 Edward S. Yeung
- 2006 R. Mark Wightman
- 2007 Norman J. Dovichi
- 2008 Milos V. Novotny
- 2009 R. Graham Cooks
- 2010 Catherine Fenselau
- 2011 James W. Jorgenson
